who being duly sworn, deposes and says: I was sitting on the steps of the home of Mr. St. John about between 7 and 8 o'clock of the morning of May 21, 1914 when Officer Rowe of the city police came along and started in conversation with me. I asked him what he was doing down here and he replied that he was down here to keep them damned Jews from getting killed.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 22nd day of May 1914.
